Grand Chief.

Many Important Business Matters Under Discussion

Delegates to the grand castle of the Knights of Golden Eagle of Massachusetts convened today in the thirtieth annual session. The meeting is in Knights of Golden Eagle hall in Freeman's building. Every castle of Massachusetts and those of southern New Hampshire are represented at the convention, the jurisdiction of New Hampshire having been extended into this state. The convention opened at 10 o'clock this forenoon.

Those in attendance left Boston at 7.30 a. m., Chelsea at 7.42, Lynn at 7.57 and Beverly at 8.16 on a special train for this city.

Following is the order of business which is being observed:

Second, Roll call of members.

Third, To hear and act upon report of committee on credentials.

Fourth, To admit all qualified Past Chiefs and confer degree.

Fifth, To read and act upon Records of previous session.

Sixth, Report of Grand Chief and action thereon.

Seventh, Report of Grand Master of Records and action thereon.

Eighth, Report of Grand Keeper of Exchequer and action thereon.

Ninth, Report of Grand Trustees Standing and special committees.

Tenth, Nomination and Election of Officers.

Eleventh, Installation of Officers.

Twelfth, Assessment of per capita tax for the ensuing year.

Thirteenth, Appropriations.

Fourteenth, General Business and Resolutions.

Fifteenth, Good of the order.

Following are the present officers of the Grand Castle:

Junior Past Chief, J. H. H. Hartshorn, 117 Broad street, Lynn, Mass.

Grand Chief, Frank L. Colony, 52 Lynnfield street, East Lynn, Mass.

Grand Vice Chief, Dr. Z. C. Kelley, 15 Market street, Lynn, Mass.

Grand High Priest, William McGreevy, Walmsville, Mass.

Grand Master of Records, R. H. Cutcliffe, 40 Gladstone street, East Boston, Mass.

Grand Second Guard, Charles E. Russell, Jr., 141 Cabham street, Lynn, Mass.

Grand Bard, F. Norton Gesner, a Sheridan street, Jamaica Plain, Mass.

The election of officers is in progress as we go to press. It was stated, however, that Dr. Z. C. Kelley was in line for the office of Grand Chief.

B. E. Hym of Essex Castle, No 13,

Lynn, Mass., and F. S. Townes of Crusader Castle No. 5 of Leominster, Mass., took past degrees. Ten members of Oak Castle, this city, were also participants.

MALLEY-DIXON

This morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception occurred the wedding of Francis C. Malley and Miss Sarah E. Dixon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward J. Walsh P. R., who also offered nuptial mass.

The bride was gowned in white satin with pearl trimmings. She wore a tulle veil and carried bridal roses. The bride was attended by Miss Helen McGlinchy of Portland who wore white embroidered messor and carried bouquet of American beauty roses.

The bestman was Dr. Jas. H. Dixon brother of the bride.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond pendant and the bride's to the bridesmaid a ruby ring. The groom's gift to the bestman was a sapphire pin.

Following the reception at the bride's home attended by the immediate family only, Mr. and Mrs. Malley left on the afternoon train for a trip to New York and Washington. The brides traveling gown was an imported costume of chamade colored broad-cloth. The young couple are greatly popular and enjoy the ac-

WATER FAMINE IN NEW ENGLAND

Most of the New England people have got to be extremely careful of their water supply this spring and summer, or otherwise one of the worst water famines known in this section for the last 30 years will result. That is the gist of a statement made by X. H. Goodenough, chief engineer of the Massachusetts state board of health.

His words of warning were given after a careful study of the charts and statements filed in his office relative to the rainfall and water supply in the state. Last year conditions in this commonwealth were very bad, indeed, so far as drinking water went, and according to all indications at this time there will be far less drinking water available this summer and fall than was found last year.

These conditions seem to be general in this eastern section of the country, as the officials of the city of New York have already announced that its reservoirs are not nearly full and that people must be sparing of the manner in which they use drinking water.

Boston, with its metropolitan water supply, is fortunately situated, for even if no rain was to fall for the next 12 months there would be an ample supply in its great reservoirs. It is not the metropolitan water district of Boston, but cities and towns in other parts of Massachusetts which are expected to suffer for lack of sufficient water this coming summer and fall.

He said, "It is extremely dry for this season of the year. That does not mean that there is not water, but just what I said—that it is very dry for this season of the year, and the outlook for summer is not pleasant to contemplate."

"In the first place we have had four or five very dry years and this worst of the lot is coming on top of the series. To a person acquainted with the supplies for cities and towns, that statement has a wealth of meaning. We depend on our winter and spring to fill up our reservoirs and rivers and to keep us in water for the dry periods of the year. What rain falls during the summer, is not of very much account unless there is a great deal of it, for it evaporates almost as fast as it falls and does little to increase the supply in the reservoirs."

"The past winter has been the driest in the history of the state since our board began to keep its records 30 years ago. Just to show you how dry it has been let me compare it with the records for a couple of past years. The year 1908 was a very dry one. In the six months of that year, or the summer period, the flow of the Nashua river was 238,000 gallons per day per square mile, and in the six winter months of the same year its average yield was 1,000,000 gallons per day per square mile."

"In 1910, another dry year, in fact a very dry one, the average flow of the Nashua river for six summer months was about 200,000 gallons per day per square mile, and for the winter months was only 1,000,000 gallons per day per square mile."

"From last December to last April inclusive, the average flow of the river was only about 900,000 gallons per day per square mile, as against 1,400,000 gallons in previous dry years, or about 944 as much as in previous dry years."

"Following a very dry summer, the effects of this dry winter have been to leave the large storage reservoirs in the commonwealth not nearly full, and some of them are already quite low. At the beginning of this year the watersheds have been yielding a very small quantity of water. But the scarcity of water should not be felt for the present, although it is bound to make itself apparent later in the summer."

"Last summer the scarcity of water was such as to cause worry and great inconvenience in many places in New England. With every indication of an even lesser supply this summer, it should cause those cities and towns to guard carefully their supply."

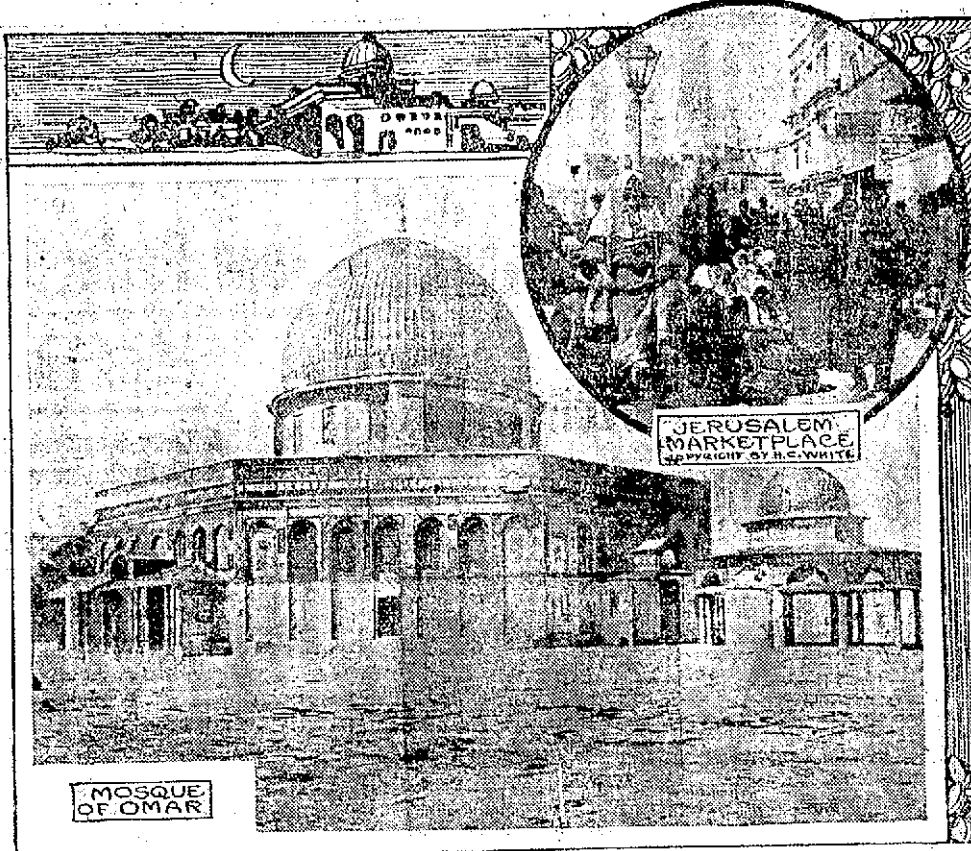

"I do not wish to preach disaster, nor to seem pessimistic. But records are records and I have told you what they indicate at this time. We may get a good quantity of rain this month but as yet it has not come and the rays of the sun are daily becoming more powerful and able to evaporate what water falls from any ordinary rainfall. It will take a pretty wet summer to tide us over the shortage of water that is now in sight."

TO VACATE AMENDMENT.

Counsel for Henry M. Baker, Executor of Mary Baker G. Eddy Estate, Files a Motion.

Concord, N. H., May 8.—A motion to vacate the amendment allowed by the U. S. Circuit court last week to the bill of Dr. E. J. Foster Eddy of Baker of Bow, executor of the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy founder of the Christian Science church, and of whom Dr. Foster Eddy was an adopted son, was filed with the clerk of the federal court here today by counsel for Mr. Baker, assembled at Camp Elliott, Panama. The bill seeks to have the residence of the Eddy family, by a deed that the charge grew out of ## Robbery of the Mosque of Omar at Jerusalem; Articles of Great Antiquarian Value Stolen.

The Turkish government is conducting a rigorous inquiry into the reported robbery of the mosque of Omar at Jerusalem, which was built on the site of Solomon's temple. The objects stolen are said to be of great antiquarian value. An Anglo-American syndicate of excavators is suspected of having had something to do with the depredations. Two years ago they obtained a concession to carry on excavation work half a mile from the mosque of Omar. The conclusion is that a tunnel was dug, entrance effected from underneath and the treasures removed in this way.

queathing the residue of her estate to the Christian Science church in Boston, declared void and the residue divided between Dr. Foster Eddy and Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., as next of kin. Last week's amendment was in the nature of a claim that the agreement made by Messrs Foster Eddy and Glover before Mrs. Eddy's death, that they would not contest her will, in view of a money settlement, was invalid, because Mrs. Eddy did not personally sign the agreement. Counsel for the defendant have asked for a hearing on their motion filed today.

Millions of Folks Use Only Cascarets

They never have Headache, Biliousness, Sluggish, Inactive Bowels or a Bad Stomach to make them miserable.

A million boxes a month. That's the sale of Cascarets. And every tablet in every box means a day of good cheer. Think what a world of happiness this candy laxative has brought to men and women—also the children. Are you getting your share?

Cascarets cure bowel troubles when they have developed. But that is the least of their uses. Their best service is to prevent the many ills that come from inactive bowels. Think of the days when you are not at your best. The mornings when you don't feel right, the afternoons when you are laggard, the evenings when you are irritable. The cause lies in the bowels.

One Cascarets makes everything different. Don't say I'll take it to-night. Take it at once. Carry a box in your pocket. The hours before bedtime are too good to be wasted. Cascarets are gentle and pleasant. Their action is as natural as the action of fruit on the bowels. They are sold by all druggists at 10 cents per box.

LOSS IN SANFORD, ME.

Timberland Damaged Fully $10,000
Fire In Night Reported at Milton Mills, N. H.

Sanford, Me., May 8.—Three fires, which were burning on as many sides of Sanford and Springvale last night, were well in hand today, but it was uncertain how soon further damages would be done when the wind freshened, as the ground is extremely dry and the wells are drying up, so that there is little water with which to fight the flames. No buildings were burned, but the timberland damage was estimated at fully $10,000. Timber valued at half this amount was burned on Shaw's Ridge in the eastern section of Sanford.

A large amount of timber was burned at Milton Mills, N. H., north of Sanford in the night. No buildings were reported burned.

Will Be Tried at Panama.

Orders have been issued by the Navy Department directing the trial of Captain Robert M. Gilson, of the Marine Corps, by a court-martial to be held at Camp Elliott, Panama. The bill seeks to have the residence of the Eddy family, by a deed that the charge grew out of alleged financial irregularities. The court will consist of Lieutenant Colonel Henry C. Haines, assistant adjutant and inspector, Marine Corps; Commander Hilary P. Jones, of the Navy; Majors Melville J. Shaw and George C. Thorpe, of the Marine Corps; Lieutenant Commander W. C. Asserson, of the Navy; and Captains George Van Orden and James T. Bootes, of Marine Corps, with Captain Logan Feland, of the Marine Corps, as judge advocate. Captain Philip S. Brown of the Marine Corps, will not act as counsel for Captain Gilson.

OBITUARY

Gilman A. Hutchins.
Word reached this city on Monday of the sudden death of Gilman A. Hutchins, a former resident of Kittery, who passed away at St. Paul. Deceased was the son of the late Charles and Martha Hutchins and the last of seven children.

He took up life in the west about twenty years ago where he was engaged in selling flower for a large house in La Croix, Wis. He recently made a month's visit to his aged mother, who has the sympathy of friends in bereavement.

Slow as a ...
"You are arrested," said the constable as the farmer drove off the bridge. "Hey?"
"I said you are under arrest."
"What for?"
"Can't you read?"
"Yes."
"That sign says five dollars' fine for driving over this bridge faster than a walk."

"What's that got to do with it?"
"You trotted your horses across."
"What of that? It wasn't faster than a walk."

Not Interested.
"Jack spends an awful lot of money on Polly."
"I suppose she scolds him good for it."
"Not at all."
"Oh, well, then she doesn't mean to marry him?"

REMARKABLE SHARP-SHOOTING

The wonderful shooting of John Baker continues to be one of the chief features of interest with Buffalo Bill's and Pawnee Bill's Allied Exhibitions of the Wild West and East. Mr. Baker is not content to "stand still" with his already wonderful repertoire of fancy shooting feats but is always originating new and difficult ones with which to amaze his audiences. The positions he assumes while giving his shooting exhibition would do credit to an expert acrobat, yet from these positions he breaks glass balls and executes remarkable shots with unerring skill.

While the Wild West was touring Europe, Mr. Baker, in competition with continental crack shots, carried off first honors, and was the recipient of a handsome gold cup and medals as souvenirs from the Tirrur de Hachasse of Paris, the most exclusive Gun Club in the world, and was also honored by being made a life member of the club.

The temperature of Monday was the real summer variety, with the glass ranging about eighty. It cooled off some during the evening.

FOOD IN SERMONS

Feed the Dominie Right and the Sermons Are Brilliant.

A conscientious, hard-working and successful clergyman writes: "I am glad to bear testimony to the pleasure and increased measure of efficiency and health that have come to me from adopting Grape-Nuts food as one of my articles of diet."

"For several years I was much distressed during the early part of each day by indigestion. My breakfast seemed to turn sour and failed to digest. After dinner the headache and other symptoms following the breakfast would wear away, only to return however, next morning."

"Having heard of Grape-Nuts food I finally concluded to give it a trial. I made my breakfasts of Grape-Nuts with cream, toast and Postum. The result was surprising in improved health and total absence of the distress that had, for so long a time, followed the morning meal."

"My digestion became once more satisfactory, the headaches ceased and the old feeling of energy returned. Since that time I have always had Grape-Nuts food on my breakfast table."

"I was delighted to find also, that whereas before I began to use Grape-Nuts food I was quite nervous and became easily wearied in the work of preparing sermons and in study, a marked improvement in this respect resulted from the change in my diet. I am convinced that Grape-Nuts food produced this result and helped me to a sturdy condition of mental and physical strength."

"I have known of several persons who were formerly troubled as I was, and who have been helped as I have been, by the use of Grape-Nuts food, on my recommendation." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

ARRESTS IN ALASKA COAL PARTY

Cordova, Alaska, May 8.—After a conference between U. S. Marshal Harvey Sullivan and U. S. Dist. Atty. George Walter, it was announced yesterday that 50 warrants will be issued for arrest of the men known to have participated in the "coal party" Thursday when Canadian coal piled on the docks was dumped into the bay.

The announcement caused a storm of protest and the officials decided to postpone action for a time and give the angry citizens a chance to regain their composure.

Do Your Cooking in the Cool

A hot kitchen is little better than a prison in summer. But the range is there, so all the cooking and the washing must be done there, too.

What a relief it would be to move the range where you pleased. You can do this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove—cook your dinner out on the porch, if you like. It is the only range that is really portable—that works equally well in any place. There are no connections to be made, as in a gas range; no wiring, as with an electric stove; no sooty flues and ash-filled grates, as with coal or wood.

The long, enameled chimneys carry the heat directly up to saucepans, oven or boiler; you get full value from your fuel, without waste.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Hand-ranely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

BACHELDER MAKES PROTEST

Appears Before Senate Committee on Reciprocity.

Washington, May 8.—Protests of book paper manufacturers against Canadian reciprocity were made to the senate finance committee when it resumed hearings on the agreement today.

George Sullivan, representing a Philadelphia company, asserted that because of the vast wood supply and cheap water power in Canada, coupled with advantages in the duty on raw material, Canadian book paper manufacturers could make their product $7 a ton less than Americans.

He declared the agreement would put the American book paper manufacturers out of business.

Mr. Sullivan said there were 46 book paper mills in the United States with 30,000 employees.

The only book paper Americans export is Bible paper.

Mr. Bachelor Protests.

Representatives of the farmers of 13 or 14 states followed the book paper manufacturers in protesting against the bill. Former Gov. N. J. Bachelder of New Hampshire, master of the National grange, denounced the bill as a violation of the pledge of the Republican national platform of 1908 to maintain protection to the country's industries equal to the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad.

"Are cattle, sheep and hogs, wheat, oats, butter, eggs and potatoes controlled by trusts, asked Mr. Bachelder of the Democratic senators as he referred to the Democratic platform. "If not, why put them on the free list, instead of on a revenue basis as your platform demands?"

Mr. Eaton and Mr. Gilles.

The fact that a "so called farmers' free list bill" had been introduced, he said, was an admission that the farmers would be injured.

Mr. Bachelder presented tables to show that articles used by the American farmer bear an average tariff tax of from 20 to 30 per cent more than that paid by the Canadian farmer. He concluded from this that the American farmer could not compete with the Canadian on an equal basis.

Robert Eaton, master of the Illinois state grange, and W. N. Gilles, secretary of the New York State grange, both warned congress against discriminating against the farmers. "We are going to hold somebody responsible in this matter," said Mr. Gilles.

Mr. Gallinger Speaks.

"That will be the President, for he negotiated the treaty," suggested Senator Bailey.

"How about the senators who vote for it?" interjected Senator Gallinger. "I would not like to be a senator who would go to the farmers and say he had been willing to sacrifice the farmers in this matter in this matter," said Mr. Gilles.

Wool on Free List.

That the ways and means committee will put raw wool on the free list in revising schedule K was declared to be practically certain today and resulted in a caucus of the Democratic delegation from New York, at which 13 members declared themselves in favor of free raw material and four argued against it. All pledged themselves to abide by the decision of the full Democratic caucus.

Investigation of the American Sugar Refining company and all other concerns engaged in the manufacture or the refining of sugar to ascertain whether or not there have been violations of the anti-trust law was recommended today by the house committee on rules.

New Free List Bill.

Another free list bill was introduced in the house today. Its author is Representative Morse, Wisconsin Republican insurgent. It would exempt from duty articles imported for use in the equipment of pulp and paper mills and in the manufacture of pulp and paper.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

Richard Carle.

Richard Carle, in one of the most pronounced successes of his remarkably successful career, his latest and brightest play, "Jumping Jupiter," which is aptly described as a farce, with music intended for laughing purposes only, is to be seen at Music Hall on May 18. The piece was written by Mr. Carle, and the music by Karl Hoschner, the famous composer of "Madame Sherry," "Three Twins," "Girl of my Dreams," etc., and will serve to introduce this famous comedian to local playgoers for the first time.

"Jumping Jupiter" was quite the funniest play that has visited Boston this season and was summarized exactly as "laugh every thirty seconds. It has just finished two months of crowded houses in Boston. There are a number of charming songs that will be singing and whistled on all hands, and the splendid company headed by Edna Wallace Hopper (specially engaged) is quite the perfect musical comedy cast. Will H. Philbrick, a grotesque low comedian; Joseph C. Miron, the basso; Ina Claire, the wonderful new imitator; Burrell Barretto, Helen May, and other talented singers and dancers, together with a bevy of clever and pretty young women in minor roles who have been designated as "Some Girls," will win favor here.

The verdict of the Boston papers unanimously and enthusiastically favorable to Richard Carle and to "Jumping Jupiter." Philip Hale in the Herald has this to say of Carle as a comedian:

"Mr. Carle is much more than an ordinary clown. First of all he has intelligence, and the man laughing with him does not laugh at him, for he feels that Mr. Carle realizes the wild absurdity of his nonsense and enjoys it heartily. Nor does Mr. Carle excite laughter by obvious means. Nor does he rely at all on mugging and catch-words. He is able to make the commonplace ridiculous. He upsets the logic of events. He invents a language, often delightfully inconsequential, for the expression of his grotesque ideas. His seriousness in fantastic situations excites sympathy. He is not yet incensed by his mannerisms."

"Jumping Jupiter" has been beautifully staged by the managers, Frazee & Ledor, and in every way is an ideal entertainment for those who like good, wholesome fun, pretty music, charming girls and handsome gowns.

RIVER AND HARBOR

The old steamer Pioneer was tied up at Spring Market wharf Monday afternoon loading coal for the dredging fleet at Pepperell's cove.

Barge Nesquehoning was towed to the lower harbor this forenoon after discharging coal at the Consolidated Coal company's docks.

Charles P. Drown's big sloop yacht Valiant, which has been wintered at the Kittery end of Piscataqua bridge, was towed to her moorings off the Portsmouth Yacht club, Sunday, and will be put in commission for the summer.

The Irvington came in for orders Saturday afternoon and tied up for a short time here.

BIDDEFORD'S FOREST FIRE.

Gotten Under Control About 2 A. M.—Volunteer in Critical Condition from Drinking Sulphuric Acid.

Biddeford, Me., May 8.—Edward Boucher, one of the 10 volunteers who fought and subdued the extensive forest fires in the western part of this city, early today, is in a local hospital, in a serious condition, suffering from the effects of a drink of sulphuric acid, taken from a jug which he supposed contained water. He was found in an unconscious condition shortly after midnight, by other men, who thought he had been drinking swamp water. He was revived and explained that he had taken a drink out of one of the jugs which the firemen had brought into the woods. The jugs contained sulphuric

Frisco Experts Think Burns Will Make Wolgast Show True Form When He Meets Champion

San Francisco, May 9.—Many fight critics predict that Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion, will more than have his hands full when he meets Frankie Burns, the local boy, here May 28.

The latter is in great shape for the battle. Experts who have visited him at the training camp say he has improved wonderfully in the last few weeks and will make the champion go some to win out.

Burns has a decision over "One Pound" Hogan to his credit. Within the last few months he has defeated every lightweight of note here.

Wolgast's admirers say the title holder will add another K. O. to his list. The length of the contest is twenty rounds.

DIVORCES GRANTED

A partial list of the divorces granted by Judge Mitchell at the April term of superior court has been issued and the following couples have been separated: Clara St. Onge of Portsmouth from Fred, for alleged extreme cruelty; Ellen M. Jones of Portsmouth from Frank, for alleged extreme cruelty; Bernice L. Chase of Deerfield from Arthur F., for alleged abandonment; Amy E. Howes of Exeter from Harry E., for alleged conduct injurious to health; Gertrude A. Lighthody of Seabrook from Harry D., for alleged adultery; Alice Racine of Nottingham from Arthur, for alleged extreme cruelty; Grace L. Trevelyan of Exeter from Harvey C., for alleged adultery; Carrie E. Heywood of Derry from Burt G., for alleged extreme cruelty; Elphy M. ## COOLIDGE PROTESTS

Att'y William H. Coolidge, representing the New Haven and Boston & Maine railroads issued a statement Monday protesting against the enactment in its present form of the bill pending in the House prohibiting the employment of men as conductors or engineers unless they have served for at least two years in some minor capacity.

Mr. Coolidge declares that, if constitutional, the proposed legislation would "all transportation in Massachusetts over to the control of the engineers and conductors, because in time of strike or other emergency, transportation must cease unless their demands were granted, for the reason that new engineers or conductors qualified under the statute could not be immediately obtained to fill the places of our present force."

"The management of the New England railroad system" continues Mr. Coolidge, "suggests that if it is desired to enact into law a rule relative to the employment of engineers and conductors, there should be inserted into the law a section that its operation may be suspended in time of strike or other emergency."

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

El Paso Under Fire.

El Paso, Tex., May 9.—El Paso Monday night was under fire from the Mexican side. Three Americans have been killed by Mexican bullets and six more have been wounded, all non-combatants and all in the business and manufacturing portions of the city when they were shot down. In Juarez since early Monday afternoon fighting progressed within the city limits and since 6 o'clock there has been a continuous and determined attack on the city by the rebels under Gen. Madero. The result is thus far favorable to the federals, and, although both sides have lost heavily, the dead running probably into the hundreds, the rebels have withdrawn from several points of vantage which they have taken in the early afternoon.

Heath Murder Trial.

Gulldhall, Vt., May 9.—William Heath, a painter, for whose death Mrs. Florence M. Dwyer of Lunenburg is being tried for murder, could have been shot by a person standing in front of a bay window on the west side of the bedroom, according to testimony offered at Monday's session by Guy Watson, a St. Johnsbury civil engineer. This is the first time that a witness has made a statement of this kind, all of the others having contended that the only position that person could have been in when Heath was shot would have been on the north side of the room.

Machinists' Strike Grows.

New York, May 9.—Twelve thousand union machinists in the borough of Queens, labor leaders claim, are preparing to join their brethren in striking for a night-hour day. Eight hundred, according to figures given out by the International association of Machinists, walked out on strike in Long Island City. It is claimed that more than 10,000 are now on strike in district No. 15, embracing Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn, Yonkers and Hudson county, N. J.

Canada Faces General Election.

Ottawa, Ont., May 9.—There will be a general election in Canada before Christmas if the opposition clings to its avowed intention of obstructing reciprocity after the parliamentary adjournment is ended, according to a high government official.

House Passes Free List Bill.

Washington, May 9.—The free list bill passed the House a few minutes after 10 o'clock Monday by a strict party vote of 236 to 109, after a parliamentary struggle beginning a little after noon. Not a single amendment was allowed and every chance was given to offer amendments and to discuss them, providing they were germane.

Juarez Attacked Again.

Juarez, Mex., May 9.—This town was attacked today by revolutionary forces and one of the liveliest battles of the war occurred. Some 60 rebels were killed.

ELIOT

Eliot, May 9.

Frank L. Fernald, U. S. N., and family have opened their summer home on State road.

H. C. Call of Kittery was delivering trees and shrubs about town on Saturday.

Mrs. Augusta Wherren of Waltham, Mass., is the guest of her sister, Mary A. Wherren.

Business is rushing at Parkfield square. Mr. Derrick is having three new houses erected and a large force of men are employed.

Prentice Foster moved into his new home on Monday, the 1st.

Ruth Fernald, who has been ill with pneumonia, is slowly recovering.

Frank Liebman is at Alfred on Grand Jury.

Frank Wherren is visiting friends at Waltham, Mass.

A very pleasant occasion was that at Grange hall on Thursday evening when Mrs. Julia M. Chase gave a reception to her dancing class.

Mr. Lyman Pray of Portsmouth has moved his family into Mr. Minard's house which he has vacated, having moved to Portsmouth for a short time.

Forst fires are breaking out in several places. On Sunday the field beside the Boston and Maine railroad was set on fire and a smart fight was on for some little time. The woodland of Dr. Willis on Ware avenue road was also on fire, but fortunately was put out with not much damage.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

How Catcher Henry Was Discovered.

It must be true that ball players are born and not made. True, all of them need to have the rough edges taken off and experience to perfect them, but a good ball player is usually so from the time he starts out.

In Henry, Washington has picked up a player who is sure to shine, and no one excepting Scout Mike Kahoe deserves credit for his being with the team.

Kahoe was sent to Amherst to look over a pitcher named McClure. He saw him and dismissed him from his mind, because he did not think that he was cut out for a major league career. But it was the big, husky youngster who was catching him that attracted Kahoe's attention, and he immediately laid lines to secure him. So instead of bringing back the man he was sent after Kahoe secured Henry, and in so doing he probably brought a player who will do much to make the Nationals a winning aggregation.

May Revise Cricketer Rules.

After a delay of at least fifty years an agitation has been begun in England to put more snap into cricket. The scheme of the Cricketers' association is to make the bat narrower and the stumps higher.

Followers of the sport charge that the game as played now takes too much time and add that "this fact alone has prevented it from taking any serious root in the United States, where keenness on games is every bit as great as in the English islands and colonies."

All the big matches now take three days, and even then are frequently drawn for want of time. The proposal is to limit the bat to three and one-half inches across the blade, instead of four and one-quarter, the present width, and to increase the stumps from twenty-seven to twenty-nine inches. This, it is estimated, will enable the four innings to be ended in one-third of the time they now require.

Runner Monument to Quit.

Jack Monument, the senior and junior mile champion of the United States, has announced that he will never run another race. This dire news came in a letter from Monument to Trainer Lawson Robertson, notifying the Irish American coach that he would not be on the job this year. Monument gives business cares as the reason for his leaving the cinder path. Monument's decision to quit athletics is a distinct loss to the sport. He is known as a quiet, gentlemanly fellow and as game a man as ever put on a running shoe. It is thought that the coming on of real summer weather and a few preps at his fellow athletes in action may induce Monument to reconsider and come out on the path for another season. All the influence that the Irish American Athletic club can bring to bear will be used to get the mile champion into his running togs again.

Holmer to Race Abroad.

Hans Holmer, who recently defeated Lungstrom in a fifteen mile race in New York, has received an offer from a European promoter who was present when Holmer won the Powder Hall Marathon at Edinburgh, Scotland, and who wants to take Holmer on a tour of the world. He has asked Hans to come to England immediately after his race with Lungstrom and from there proposes going to Italy, Africa, South America and Australia.

Kilpatrick After All Around Title. J. R. Kilpatrick, Yale's track captain, will enter the all round championship at the meet to be held in Chicago in June. The track and football star weighs nearly 200 pounds. He is a good man in the weights, hurdles and the jumps. He will compete against Garrels, the famous Chicago athlete; E. C. Thompson of Los Angeles and a western star.

ON DRYDOCKS

Were Portsmouth navy yard the headquarters for battleships solely, the need of a drydock to replace the one taken from here in 1907 would be less noticeable and urgent.

Besides claiming, however, some of the finest and biggest ships in the navy, it is the home port of a flotilla of small gunboats, such as the Dabbuck, Paducab, Wheeling, Marietta, Petrel, Eagle and Hist, as well as of more comparatively diminutive craft of various kinds.

These little vessels, some of which are less than 200 feet long, when here and in need of drydocking must be put in the 750 foot basin at the yard with precisely the same cumbersome, laborious and costly proceedings required to handle a dreadnought.

It is obvious that under the present arrangement anything but an economical condition of affairs with regard to drydocking exists. Another dock even smaller than the old wooden one would handle ships of the class above mentioned not only much more expeditiously, but at a good saving in the long run.

As for locations for another drydock, large or small, they abound on all sides of Seavoy's island. It remains for New Hampshire's representation at Washington to convince the naval administration that the construction of a second dock would be decidedly a good investment.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

Boston's first heat prostration may have been heart failure induced by surprise that spring has arrived at last.

It was only natural that such an experienced fire fighter as the pastor of a church at Cohasset should turn out his congregation to combat a forest blaze.

Buttermilk, prunes and rhubarb are said to be the healthiest possible diet, but contemplation of them taken together will set some people's teeth on edge.

By a bill which promises to become a law in Illinois all sheets in hotels must be 81 inches wide and 100 inches long, but the bills may be made as short as desired.

The entomologist of the department of agriculture announces that mosquitoes breed in uncorked empty beer bottles. This no doubt accounts for their inherent thirstiness.

Dr. Orville Owen, who is digging in the River Wyke in the expectation of finding Shakespeare's skull, may render a far more practical service by getting busy in Pepperell's cave.

The grangers who are making their unreasonable fight against reciprocity would best come to a speedy realization of the black eye which they are giving their organization, and desist.

If Queen Alexandra has the sulks, as is indicated by the reports that she will not see her son's coronation, why doesn't she go over and play in Emperor Willie's yard till it is all over?

Police in plain clothes are to be sent into the bleachers at every game to watch for fellows who try to make bets. Here's hoping that those sent in are aren't susceptible to the lure of the diamond.

The inmates of the Rhode Island state prison witnessed a ball game upon the first of a series of Saturdays half holidays. One would have supposed that the ball game would have pulled on them ere now, but there's no accounting for tastes.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Street Repair by Crazy Quilt.

Mr. McAneny thinks the complaints as to the condition of the New York streets are unjust. The only complaint which is unjust is the complaint that the streets are in worse condition than ever before. They could not well be before. Year in and year out, since the first block was paved with asphalt, they have maintained a steady uniformity of atrociousness. Year in and year out they have been a disgrace to the city of New York, although, as Gen. Bingham says, they ought to be the best streets in the world.

We believe Gen. Bingham as Chief Engineer of the Highway Department will improve such work as the department is allowed to undertake. We believe that the city repair plant which Mr. McAneny asks for would improve such conditions as it would be allowed to improve. We do not believe that any radical improvement is possible until the Highway Department is allowed to look after the highways. As long as the present crazy potpourri of responsibility continues, while the repairing of the streets is scattered to and fro between the Highways Department, the Dock Department and the Park Department and the street railways, with the gas companies, the electric light companies and the Water Department, all doing their utmost to make confusion worse confounded, so long will the streets of New York remain a shame to the city—New York World.

Flowage Rights

In the early days the settlers of New England so fully appreciated the value of mills that they very generally made provision for their encouragement. Thus in Rhode Island to this day the law, which is very ancient, is that when a person has set up a water mill on his land he may continue and improve the pond and keep up the dam thereof for his advantage without molestation. That is, the water of his pond may overflow the land of his neighbor, and the latter may not "molest," although, of course, there may be a claim for damages, which, in the event of a failure to reach an agreement by the parties, may be determined in court. But this provision of the old law holds only in the case of the actual establishment of a water mill, and the modern development of the application of electric power at a distance from its source has led to new difficulties which the Rhode Island assembly is just now trying to provide for through an amendment of the law which will in effect enable a person or corporation who sets up a water power for the supply of mills to proceed "for his advantage without molestation," exactly as he may if he owns a mill with a pond and dam immediately attached. The Providence Journal says of the particular case in point which has led to the proposed legislation, "On a relatively small scale here is illustrated a form of enterprise that has come to distinguish the twentieth century. The old bottom land that never produced enough to meet taxes is nowadays picked up by the 'city fathers' for water farming, or, as an imaginative French engineer has called it, the 'mining of white coal.'—Manchester Union.

The Maine Situation.

According to a special dispatch in the Boston Herald from its Washington correspondent, many New England congressmen concede that not only Maine but New Hampshire and Massachusetts will all elect Democratic Legislatures in 1912 and will therefore send to Washington three additional Democratic United States senators to keep Senator Johnson from feeling lonely.

It is said that the worst place in the country to judge the drift of the political tide is at the national capital. No reliable estimate of political conditions can be made at Washington where for one reason or another

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Portsmouth Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorder is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Portsmouth readers.

Charles E. Oliver, 45 Coffins Alley, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Standing for hours brought a constant strain on my kidneys and I finally began to have kidney complaint. My back was so lame at times that I could hardly attend to my work and I was also troubled by headaches and spells of dizziness. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and began their use, following the directions closely. The pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney complaint soon left me and I felt much better in every way. The cure has since proven to be a permanent one and I, therefore, advise anyone suffering from disordered kidneys to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A TIMELY TOPIC

BY JOSEPH LEE,
The Sociologist.

Sunday Play for the Boys

THE kind of rest which our Sunday laws would enforce is not rest for the man or boy who works in a factory or shop or over a ledger six days a week. The existing laws are to be criticized as unjust and subversive of the true purpose of Sunday among civilized peoples.

More loafing is not rest—it induces fatigue, what is known as Sunday fatigue.

Sunday should compensate for the monotony and strain of the other six days. Think of the boy, bending over a ledger six days or the boy bending over a bench. That is what life is for a large and increasing portion of our population. These boys want a chance to straighten up and be free, and indulge in some healthy recreation on Sunday. There is no chance to grow up rationally under the present system.

Our civilized system of work is not natural anyway, and Sunday was originally intended as a compensation for its unnaturalness. What is the feeling of the savage race toward our work? One of contempt. Ask the Indian to enjoy the full benefits of our civilization, working six days over a bench and sleeping in a crowded tenement, and what will he say?—he will prefer to live and die an Indian.

such stories as are in circulation are greatly exaggerated.

Here in Maine where men with some acquaintance with political affairs have an opportunity to talk directly with those who will do the voting in 1912 few pessimistic Republicans are to be found. On the contrary they are most optimistic as to the result of the election two years hence and they base their judgment upon the record made by the 75th Legislature which was Democratic and upon the impression the Democratic governor has so far created by many of his official acts. When the State has ultimately disposed of the question of whether the prohibitory law shall remain in the constitution it will be found that a reunited Republican party will present a solid front to the enemy and as in the past 50 years there will be but one outcome when election day comes around. New England congressmen in Washington may nurse their cold feet all they please but the folks back home don't see anything to worry about.—Portland Press.

Use of the Block Signals.

Use of the block signal by the railroads of the country is steadily increasing as appears from the annual report of the Interstate commerce commission just issued. The total length of road in the United States governed by the block signal on January 1 of this year is 71,269 miles, an increase of 5511 miles over the figures of a year ago. This shows that the utility of this system of signaling trains is widely recognized.

The figures show that only about one-fourth of the block signaling is done automatically, the other three-fourths being operated by hand. Of particular interest to New England is the statement that during the present year of the Boston & Maine railroad expects to install the block system on 423 miles of road, while the New Haven road will add 137 miles automatic block system. This precaution which operates to lessen opportunity for accident of course is a step in the right direction.

In this era when speedy transportation of passengers is demanded and is essential to economic prosperity it is gratifying to know that safety precaution are being observed by the railroads. Some of the largest railroads in the country last year were operated without the loss of life of a single passenger, and this is happening in an age not so far removed from the time when many people upon starting on a journey by railroads fearfully bade their relatives good bye, because they might be killed in an accident.—Boston Globe.

It is reported that the Lord Chamberlain has decreed the exclusion of the "hobble skirt" from court ceremonies of the coronation of King George, alleging that this garment would interfere with the proper execution of the traditional "curtsy" in the presence of royalty.

Were such an order to be enforced, it would undoubtedly extinguish the vogue of the hobble skirt in England. But we doubt the wisdom of the Lord Chamberlain's alleged decision. He cannot be well informed regarding female grace and agility. Viscount Althorp is old enough in office to recall the vagaries of attire in the Victorian regime and the facility with which they were adopted to the exigencies of ceremonial.

The hobble skirt is a gentle fancy when compared with the blatant nastiness of the "hoop skirt" in which Victoria herself stands pictured and in which cumbersome and entangling fabrication her subjects presented themselves at the royal functions and made curtsy with exceeding grace. We can't believe it possible today, but the women who wore those things were able to make it beautiful in those earlier days of a fashion not so very far distant.

The hobble skirt, we fancy, will be in evidence at the coronation. It would be a good bet that Queen Mary will wear it herself.—Boston Globe.

It don't look like a new depot for Portsmouth just now.

FIGHTS TO PROVE HER MARRIAGE

The first step in court proceedings in the case of Sarah M. Clark vs. John Clark of Seabrook, a contested divorce suit was made in the Superior court at Newburyport, Monday, when counsel for both sides discussed facts of the case before Judge Scofield, and as a result it is probable that the matter will be tried at a period set aside during the criminal session.

The case is noted for its peculiarity. The defendant Clark claims that while he has lived with the plaintiff for over 50 years he was never married to her.

Clark's contention that he was never married is still maintained, it seems, stronger than ever, and it is alleged that although attorneys have spent two days searching the records in Nashua, where Mrs. Clark said she was married, they have been unable to locate any record of the marriage.

They have located the minister who Mrs. Clark said married them in Virginia, according to a letter which was written to Newburyport, the minister is said to have stated that he did not remember ever performing any marriage ceremony without filing a certificate of marriage with the city clerk, and this certificate has not been found to date.

A photograph of John W. Clark has been forwarded to Virginia as a possible means of identification. It is claimed that the ceremony was performed in 1858 and attorneys were astonished to find the clergyman is still living.

On account of the extreme old age of the contesting parties, efforts are being made to have the matter threshed out at this session of court.

The name of the clergyman is withheld for the present, but it is said that he may possibly be summoned in the case.

Mrs. Clark's petition for release from Clark was immediately followed by the declaration that they had lived together since 1858, but that they had never been married. He claimed that he met his wife in Lowell and that an entry was made in his family Bible to the effect that they were married, but such was not the case. Clark was taken ill some time ago and sent to a hospital. He now resides at the house on Maple street where he has resided a number of years. Children born to them are still living.

Do Not Show Your Age in Your Complexion

By DOROTHY VENN

(From San Francisco Examiner.)
What woman would not look young if she had a clear, soft complexion? Perhaps the most wonderful skin treatment is one of the most simple.

Dr. Takie Quoido, Japan's famous skin specialist, gives San Francisco women the following advice: "Yes, we never grow old in Japan—I mean the women's faces never show age. All Japanese women use mayatone dissolved in watchbowl, and massage the solution thoroughly into the face, neck and arms once or twice a day. This treatment is absolutely harmless even to a baby's skin and gives wonderful results, removing all manner of facial blemishes. It also prevents the growth of hair. You never saw a Japanese woman with hair on her face.

"Take a small original package of mayatone and dissolve it all in eight ounces of witchhaze and you are supplied with this aid to youth."

Where Did You Get That Hat?

It is a cinch that this girl didn't get that hat without first seeing it—and trying on lots of other shapes before she finally decided that this big and cute creation became her beauty.

Yet there are many women who buy other things without ever having a chance to inspect the goods beforehand. They order from a catalogue. Instead of going shopping they use a sheet of paper and a postage stamp. They frequently get bunkoes instead of bargains from the mail order stores.

If you see what you are buying before you buy it you needn't get bunkoed.

The way to see goods is to go to your home town stores and take a look.

"No trouble to show goods, madam."

SENATOR GALLINGER NOMINATED

The Republican Caucus Names Him For Senate President

Senator Jacob H. Gallinger of New Hampshire was unanimously nominated president pro tempore of the senate at Monday's Republican senatorial caucus. Twenty of the fifty Republican senators were absent, including nine progressive senators. The four progressives in attendance, Senator Borah, Brown, Dixon and Kenyon, voted for Mr. Gallinger. Senator Gallinger was placed in nomination by Senator Warren, who enjoined Senator Frye, the retiring president. It is expected that the caucus choice will be ratified by election in the senate today, but if there should be uncertainty as to the result there may be a postponement. The absence of so many progressives caused speculation. Some of them have announced that under no circumstances will they vote for Mr. Gallinger. It is expected, therefore, that they either will refrain

IN HARD KNOT

A return of the marriage of Herbert W. Patee of Cambridge and Mrs. Mary A. Sawin of Allston, Mass. which took place at the Universalist church parsonage on May 2, was Monday made at city hall by Rev. Charles H. Simmons, who performed the ceremony.

In 1904 Herbert W. Patee instituted suit against his wife for divorce, naming Henry A. Solis as co-respondent. A counter suit was brought against Patee by his wife, who named Mrs. Mary A. Sawin then known as Alice M. Sawin. She was acting as cookkeeper for Patee on his farm at Reading and was alleged to have stolen the affections of Mr. Patee by his wife. Mrs. Sawin had been twice married, once to Henry A. Solis the man named by Patee in his suit against his wife at the time. Patee gave his occupation as a manufacturer and his age 53. The bride said she was 28.

RUNAWAY ENGINE CAUSES EXCITEMENT

Salem, May 8.—An unusual incident in railroad history, which for a few minutes threatened the lives of many persons, occurred at Salem today, when a runaway freight engine and one car attached escaped a collision with a passenger train by the narrow margin of two feet, rushed past the station at a terrific rate and whirled through the Salem tunnel, near the north end of which it was brought under control by conductor D. A. Churchill, who had valiantly stuck to his post on the rear car.

A freight shifting engine, with the one box car attached, in the control of engineer I. H. Williams, was in the Salem yard this forenoon when the engineer suddenly found himself on the same track with a rapidly approaching passenger train from Boston. In an attempt to make a switch in the rear, Williams reversed the throttle with such suddenness that he was hurled through the cab window on to the roadbed. Fireman F. L. Dodge, who was in the cab at the time, thought that a collision with the passenger train was inevitable and jumped from the engine.

Without a driver the engine gained momentum backwards with every revolution of the wheels, and took the switch and passed the approaching passenger train by a bare margin of two feet.

The engine and freight car dashing backwards at full speed was sighted by railroad employees about the Salem station. A hundred and fifty persons who were about the station at the time saw the railroad men running in their direction shouting and waving their hands, and, knowing that something was the matter, retreated from the tracks into the rear of the station. When the runaway engine and car whirled by, no one was on the track, but there were numerous narrow escapes.

When the engine and freight car disappeared into the Salem tunnel, the telegraph wires were put into use and railroad men at the north entrance were notified to open a switch to derail the runaway, as a number of passenger trains were due on the single track within a few minutes. But rushing to obey orders, as they did, the runaway was a few seconds ahead of them, and had passed over the switch before it was opened.

All of the time Conductor Churchill was clinging to the iron step on the rear car. He realized that it would be an impossibility to climb over the top of the car into the engine car before reaching the tunnel, and determined not to jump. He hung on in hope that a collision would be averted in the tunnel. As the tunnel is narrow and low he could not climb over the top of the box car and during the mad race he continued to hold on the rear step, although almost blinded by the dust and disoriented by the train. As soon as the runaway emerged from the tunnel Churchill climbed up the ladder on the rear of the car, walked along its top, slid down into the tender, dropped into the cab and brought the runaway to a standstill, after a run of 2 1/2 miles.

At various grade crossings, collisions with wagons and the injuring of persons were narrowly averted.

When the engine started on its wild run, men nearby rushed to the scene and picked up both Williams and

NAVY MACHINISTS PROTEST.

Letter Sent to Representatives in Congress Deploring Conditions at the Charlestown Yard.

Boston, May 8.—Bunker Hill lodge 634 of machinists, which includes the larger number of the navy yard machinists, yesterday sent communications to U. S. Senators Lodge and Crane, all the Massachusetts congressmen and also all labor members of congress reviewing conditions at the Charlestown navy yard.

It is declared that the navy department at Washington has sent out statements, "evidently based on misinformation received from officials of the Charlestown navy yard." They say that until recently most of the men hired here have been hired at the second-class rate, but that now men are, with few exceptions taken on at the fourth-class rate.

The letter denies that these new men are hired for rough work, but that they are attempting a high grade of work and it is feared the lower wage will spoil the standard of work in time.

It is observed in the letter to which immediate attention is desired: "We call your attention to the statement of Capt. Beach of the machinery division to our committee—that he is instructed by the department to hire men as cheaply as he can get them." We know the government does not follow this plan in regard to paying congressmen, judges, naval officers and other officials, and we fail to see why it should be logical or just to apply this rule to the mechanics in the government employ.

MADAME SHERRY

Attracted And Pleased a Large Audience At The Portsmouth Theatre.

Madame Sherry was the attraction at the Portsmouth Theatre last evening and it created a favorable impression with a large audience. It is entitled a French Vaudeville in three acts and it was presented by an exceptionally strong well balanced company. It was staged beautifully and the costumes were rich.

In the way of a plot there is not much to brag of, but it is enough to create a number of laughable situations and provide for some very excellent dancing and singing. The dancing is a distinct feature especially that of Miss Marie Flynn who has the part of Yvonne Sherry. She is a charming little actress whose dancing is a delight to watch and she sings songs remarkable well her song, "Every Little Movement" being by far the song hit of the show. Miss Anna Boyd as Madame Sherry was great and her comedy was the kind that leaves a good impression. She has two songs that are real features "The Dublin Rag" and "Put Your Arms Around Me Honey" Helen Moslyn as Theophilus Sherry was also fine.

NEW TALES THAT ARE TOLD

"Sunny Jim" Dislikes Ceremony. Vice President Sherman's fondness for mixing with the crowd almost disarranged the White House plans at the last New Year reception.

Mr. Sherman was the first man received by the president. The vice president then became a member of the president's receiving party. The president's officer of the senate continued to bow sweetly as long as possible and then quickly stepped into the line of guests which had already passed the president and walked out to the east room, where there were hundreds of politicians of various brands. The vice president was having a fine time when he was interrupted by Captain Archibald Butt, the president's military aid.

"Mr. Vice President," said Captain Butt, "you have been missed from the "WELL, HERE I AM. WHAT DO YOU WANT?" receiving line. Permit me to escort you back in time to receive the diploma."

"So long, boys," said the vice president, waving his hand to his old cronies in the house. "See you later." Diplomat after diplomat passed the president, and behind them the vice president saw an endless line of gold braid adorning the breasts of countless officers of the army and navy stationed in Washington.

"Those fellows don't want to see me for anything," said the vice president as he slipped back into the east room. Half an hour later, while the vice president was exchanging the compliments of the season and telling an amusing story, he was again accosted by Captain Butt.

"I've been looking all over the White House for you," said the military aid. "Well, here I am," remarked "Sunny Jim," slapping Butt on the back. "What do you want this time?"

"President Taft's party is ready to go to luncheon," said the captain, "and we are waiting for you to escort Mr. Taft."—Washington Times.

JOKING AMONG THE GRAVE STATESMEN.

Lively One Put Over on Congressman McKinley.

Representative McKinley of Illinois, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, one of the richest men in the house and known affectionately among his fellows as the "human Christmas tree" because of his generosity, was entering the house chamber a few minutes before the noon hour. "Say," cried Representative Rodenburg of East St. Louis, "I've just heard of a line opening for some of that surplus capital of yours."

"What is it?" asked Mr. McKinley. "I know of a famous city, a place of probably 100,000 inhabitants, that has not a lively stable or garage. I'm thinking that it would offer a fine chance for either business because the city is always full of tourists that want to be taken around to see the sights."

"What's the town?" asked McKinley. "Venice," replied Rodenburg, dodging a bundle of Congressional Records that some one hurled at his head.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Here Below.

Edward Douglas White of Louisiana, chief justice of the United States supreme court, said at a luncheon given in his honor in Washington that corporate and political corruption will only be stopped when conviction means ignominy and disgrace.

"At present," said Judge White, "I am afraid that convictions and fines are regarded too lightly by big financiers of the sporting type. They remind me of John Booth of Lafourche."

"John Booth, an old offender, was haled before a magistrate, who said to him sternly:

"I see by your record, Mr. Booth, that you have had thirty-seven previous convictions. What have you to say?"

"Booth, assuming a sanctimonious air, replied:

"Well, judge, man is not perfect."

UNIVERSITY OF FRANCE.

Essentially the Same Today as When Established by Napoleon.

In the United States there are many universities which are free from state control, but in France there is only one university, and it is an absolute instrument of the state. It is true that there are schools of higher learning, which were founded in 1870 as universities, but five years afterward the title was withdrawn, and they are now called "institutes." They are five in number and are located in Paris, Lille, Lyons, Toulouse and Angers.

But the University of France is an entirely different organization. It is the official school. It is centralized in Paris and has under it a vast multitude of establishments, faculties, colleges and primary schools, distributed over the whole surface of the country. Directly or indirectly they all depend on the government.

The university was established by Napoleon, and in spite of certain modifications which it has undergone during years it is the same today. In its essential elements as the day he founded it. Just as he established the entire civil administration, with its prefects, subprefects, judges, ministers of finance, so he created in 1800 this vast educational organization, with its countless professors, who control the entire intellectual training of France.—American.

RAILWAYS AND DOGS.

Alike in One Respect in Sardinia. That Both Are Perils.

Sardinia is an island of many perils. One of them is the danger to the experience of Mr. Crawford Fitch, the author of "Mediterranean Moods," is the railways. "The engine," he says, "is continually making frantic dashes for the scenery. On the line to Tortol I made four journeys and had three accidents. On one occasion, after a car had been wrecked, the various employees gathered round the wreckage and spent the remainder of a sultry afternoon in bitterly disputing the proper apportionment of blame for the accident. As it was impossible to proceed that evening I spent the night at the railway station and enjoyed a comfort that I found nowhere else in the island."

Another peril is the dogs, who do not hesitate to attack a stranger, even when he is walking peacefully upon the highroad. "The breed is particularly ferocious, and it is said that the peasants have a way of stimulating their ferocity by tying a bladder filled with blood to the neck of a dummy man and encouraging the animal to spring at the neck and tear open the bladder."

A Famous Paris Sign.

Paris is a city of curious signboards one of the most remarkable ones representing a tobaccoist's sign at 55 Rue du Chateau-d'Eau, which has been here ever since 1870. It is a shield with holes made by the bullets of the Prussians, and the occupant of the shop states that so far as he is aware it is the only public relic of the Franco-Prussian war in evidence in the streets of Paris today.

"My sign," he added, "brings me plenty of customers. You have no idea, monsieur, of the number of English and American tourists who pass this way and drop into my place for a cigar or a box of matches merely in order to have a word with me about my bullet riddled case. I wouldn't part with it for anything."—Wide World Magazine.

Getting the Exact Spot.

An emergency call from a policeman for a tape measure kept two women waiting in the dressmaker's parlor for five minutes. There were other tape measures there which the dressmaker might have used, but she was too busy pondering the circumstance that had suddenly converted her into an ally of the police department. Presently the policeman returned the tape.

"What did you want it for?" she asked. "To help find the right place to shoot a horse with a broken leg," he said. "The vital spot is just three inches above that little swirl in his forehead where a dozen crows seem to meet. I am not very good at guessing, so we thought it safest to find the exact spot with a tape measure."—New York Sun.

Music of the Drum.

All musical authorities have agreed that when used in a proper way the drum is thoroughly musical. The common snare or side drum is freely used in musical composition. A large number of drummers performing simultaneously out of doors produce good music. In this connection Berlioz, the composer, pointed out that a sound that was insignificant when heard singly, such as the clink of one or two muskets at shoulder arms or the thud as the butt comes to the ground at ground arms, becomes brilliant and attractive if performed by a thousand men together.

Crumpled Them.

We observe that the man's fingers are all twisted and bent into the most uncouth shapes.

"Poor fellow," we say to our friend. "Evidently he is a victim of rheumatism."

"No," our friend explains. "He is deaf and dumb and has been trying to talk Scotch dialect on his fingers."—Life.

Would Have to Move.

"John, the janitor's son whipped Jimmy today."

"Well, that's no great calamity. Suppose Jimmy had whipped the janitor's son?"—Pittsburg Post.

FOR THE CHILDREN

What Was It?

Guess what he had in his pocket. Marbles and tops and sundry toys. Such as always belong to boys? A litter apple, a leather ball? Not at all.

What did he have in his pocket? A bubble pipe and a rusty screw. A brass watch key broken in two. A fishhook in a tangle of string? No such a thing.

What did he have in his pocket? Gingerbread crumbs, a whistle he made, Buttons, a knife with a broken blade, A nail or two with a rubber gun? Neither one.

What did he have in his pocket? Before he knew it it slipped out. Under the treasures carefully kept. And away they all of them quickly stole— "It was a hole!"

—Child's Hour.

A New Kind of Policeman.

Did you ever hear of a bear acting the part of a policeman? Yet I knew one, and although he did not wear a uniform nor helmet nor did he carry a club, he captured a thief. His name was Bruin, and he danced to gather in the pennies for his young Italian master. Late one afternoon the Italian stopped at a farmhouse and begged to stay all night. He ordered Bruin to dance for the farmer's children, and before retiring he shut the bear in the barn for safe keeping. During the night the family was aroused by a great noise coming from the barn and a loud cry of "Help! Help!"

The farmer ran to the spot, followed by Bruin's master. They saw a strange sight—Bruin with his huge arms around a man's neck, hugging him tightly. The bear was muzzled, so he could do the man no great harm, but the man was too frightened to notice the muzzle. The man was a dishonest neighbor who had entered the barn to steal a fine calf. In the darkness he had stumbled over the bear, who seized him and held him fast.

"The Italian called out, 'Hug him, Bruin!' The bear continued to hug until his master called him away, and the neighbor went away a frightened and wiser man.

Serpentine Tag.

Every boy and girl plays tag, but few are acquainted with it in its liveliest form—namely, as serpentine tag. For this good variation a large square is drawn on the ground or on the bare floor, and the person who is to be "it" takes up the position within this boundary line, while the rest remain outside.

He is armed with a long wand, at the end of which is a tuft of raw cotton dipped in flour. Any one crossing the chalk line or, in fact, venturing within reach of the tufted wand can be tagged if the tagger can catch him.

A white flour mark on a dress or coat is proof positive that a boy or girl has been tagged. As soon as any one is tagged he must take the free hand of the person tagging and accompany him in his sorties against other invaders. Each person when tagged joins hands with the pursuers, and it is when the pursuing line has become nearly lost and unwieldy that the game is at its funniest and most exciting, though none is laughing all through it.

Plants and Animals.

Plants are like animals in many ways. The animal breathes; so does the plant. The animal has veins through which the blood flows, carrying life and vigor to every part. The plant, too, has veins through which the plant's blood flows to every part.

Through the center of the leaf runs a tough, heavy vein from which are sent out many branches. These in turn send out smaller branches, and these last still smaller ones until the whole leaf is covered with a network of veins. The moisture is drawn from the earth through the roots and carried by these veins to every part of the leaf.

Look again at the surface of the leaf and you will see little pores. Through these the leaf breathes, taking in the air as we take it into our lungs. But the leaf takes that part of the air which the animal cannot use, and the animal takes the part the plant cannot use. In this we see the wisdom of God, who made all things.

Conundrums.

What grows the less tired the more it works? An auto wheel.

What fruit is the most visionary? The apple of the eye.

Why should a hairdresser be sad? Because he curls up and dyes.

What causes a cold, cures a cold and pays for the doctor? A draft.

What did John's wardrobe consist of? Three poor comforters.

What is worse than raining cats and dogs? Hailing cats and dogs.

When is a chicken's neck like a bell? When it is wrong for dinner.

Why are pious noble characters? Because they are upright, grand and square.

If tough meat could speak what English poet would it mention? Chaucer.

What should a clergyman preach about? About half an hour.

Japanese Maxim.

Not every one knows that the group of three monkeys so often seen in photographs from Japan represent a favorite maxim of the Japanese. One monkey holds his hand over his ear that he may "hear no evil," the center one covers his mouth with his hand that he may "speak no evil," and the third covers both eyes with his hands that he may "see no evil." This group is found above one of the temples of Nikko and was carved by a famous left handed sculptor.

FRANK H. GREENOUGH

Frank H. Greenough of Rye, a workman on the navy yard, while at work on the battleship Maine, Monday afternoon was stricken with a stroke of apoplexy and removed to the Naval hospital. He was given every medical treatment and later removed to the Portsmouth hospital in the yard ambulance and attended by Dr. Jenkins but he failed to rally died at seven o'clock.

Mr. Greenough has been apparently in good health and his sudden death was a great shock to his family and host of friends.

Mr. Greenough was born in this city and aged 34 years 4 months and 11 days. He was for many years an engineer on the Boston & Maine railroad and on resigning from that company he accepted a position on the navy yard and has been regularly employed there. He has a place in Rye, and he leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Martha, wife of Boardman Randall of this city. Two brothers, George and Charles A. Greenough survive.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or cold. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

MURDER ON THE U.S.S. NEBRASKA

Colored Mess Attendant Kills a Companion With Officer's Revolver.

Boston, May 8.—Because his small, boy. The body of Allen will today be sent to the naval hospital at Chelsea for burial, and his assailant is held on ship board pending the result of an inquiry by a board of officers which was convened about 10 o'clock this forenoon. This board will inquire into the shooting and the cause leading up to the alleged murder and will later make a report to the commanding officer of the navy yard, who in turn will forward it to the navy department at Washington.

Both men are colored and were engaged as mess boys for the junior officers' mess. Bad blood is said to have existed between them. Allen, who died in less than three minutes after his companion fired five shots into his body from an officers' regulation navy revolver, was noted among the ship's company for his athletic ability. He held full away over the colored servants regardless of size and weight. Beeks, as usual, put it all over Beeks, and gave him a badly blackened eye. Beeks, who went into one of the officers' rooms, pretending to be looking for shoes, but in reality to procure one of the officers' revolvers, which he found in the room, loaded with six cartridges of 38 caliber.

According to the statement of the executive officer, Beeks returned from the officers' room with the revolver concealed and deliberately sat down, apparently waiting for a favorable opportunity to kill. When Allen appeared on the other side of the mess table Beeks quickly drew the revolver and aimed pointblank at his victim. Beeks is alleged to have discharged five shots, the bullets entering Allen's body, as one of the officers expressed it, "so close together that a plate would cover all five." His marksmanship was almost perfect, for three of the shots lodged about the left breast and two on the right breast, causing almost instant death.

Passed Asst. Surg. Farwell, who had been lying on the deck bleeding profusely, was removed to the sick bay. In just three minutes after the shooting had occurred Allen died. Meanwhile Beeks had been arrested by the marines and locked up in the ship prison.

The shooting caused much excitement on board ship and all kinds of rumors were in circulation, many supposing that one of the officers had been attacked by the colored mess and laborers at the navy yard.

GAS Is Coal With The Trouble Taken Out

GAS is really nothing more than coal, only with gas you have the coal less the dirt, ashes and smoke. These have been taken out by the gas company, the weight too, has been taken out, for when you use gas you don't have to carry it up from the cellar in buckets, straining your back in your attempt to do so; all of the drudgery has been removed. The Gas Company has taken everything out of the coal but the heat and that's the one thing you want; this they deliver to you right to the burner of the gas range. You only have to turn a valve and strike a match in order to have it.

PORTSMOUTH GAS CO.

WORKMEN WANTED

Civil Engineer L. E. Gregory, head of the department of public works at the navy yard told the Chronicle man Monday that his department is needing many men, especially joiners, carpenters and laborers for the work in the department. He states that men who register for any part of the large amount of work will be called for duty as fast as they register. With the big appropriation which becomes available in this department in July there is likely a summer's work ahead for those who seek employment. He is anxious to have local labor in every way possible and it is hoped that the people in this locality will respond to the call.

MALDEN ELKS BURNED OUT

Building Occupied by Lodge Damage to Extent of $5000—Japanese Stewards Were Sleeping When Fire Started.

Boston May 8.—Fire in the house of the Malden lodge of Elks at the corner of Florence and Clement streets, Malden, about six o'clock this morning caused a loss of $5000. The title was given. The blaze started in the cellar, in a barrel of waste that was kept under the stairs. Its course was almost straight up to the roof by way of the stairways and between partitions. In getting at the fire it was necessary to pull out the steel cutting in the second floor and this increased the loss. The first floor was flooded.

Two Japanese stewards were sleeping in the attic when the fire started. One of them, Henry Terdeso, whose intention is to enter Harvard Medical School next fall, was awakened and he tried to put out the blaze with an extinguisher. The flames, however, had too much headway. He ran upstairs and awakened his companion and then called to a pedestrian to sound an alarm. Included among some of the furnishings which were removed from the building by the police was a mahogany clock, which was presented to the lodge two years ago by the Haverhill lodge. The damage to the building was about $4000, while the contents suffered to the extent of $1000. The loss is covered by insurance.

The building originally belonged to John and Jane Southmayd, old-time Boston confectioners. Prior to the coming of the Elks the building was occupied by the Malden Automobile Club. The Elks became tenants two years ago.

BRUSH FIRE ON BANFIELD ROAD

Railroad Section Men Fight The Fire with Good Results.

A brush fire which started in the woods near the Banfield road Monday afternoon was put out by the section crew from Greenland and a section crew from this city. The fire started near the railroad tracks and had good headway when reported and the section crews were ordered out and after an hour or more of work they had it under control.

FERT PARAGRAPHS.

WIFE can sometimes cure her husband of rheumatism, but when it comes to egotism she has to pass the word over to some pretty girl who is looking for some one to make game of.

Some handsome men are too clever to wear becoming clothes.

Sometimes a little flirtation results in a big alimony.

When you get out of temper don't go to borrow of your next door neighbor.

He who fights and runs away will have a chance to draw his pay.

One way to reform yourself is not to do things that need reforming.

There may be people who can't give advice when your guard is down, but he have never been fortunate enough to meet them.

The man who doesn't talk much generally gets paid for keeping still.

Some young men seem to think that having a rich father is quite hard enough work for them.

Even dull people are sometimes able to put their friends all on edge.

The reason why women talk so much may be because time is short and styles change rapidly.

Explained. Twinkle, twinkle, little star. No one wonders what you are. Science makes it plain as pie. Who you are and also why.

Once we thought you were a tack. Pushed into a background black. With a head of polished brass. That for gold you tried to pass.

Once we thought you rose and set. On that point we would have bet. Now we know you stand, while we tumble on our axis free.

We regarded you a speck As we upward turned our neck. Now we know you are as large As a fancy doctor's charge.

Science tells us that your size Is the kind that wins the prize. That beside you at a fair We would not be anywhere.

You're not, it's as plain as noon. Little brother to the moon. For the moon would hardly pass As a pygmy in your class.

Twinkle, twinkle, little star. We don't wonder what you are. Since your twinkling answers us. We'll let science take its fuss.

Quoted. "It is queer how some men keep out of the penitentiary."

"Maybe it is, but—" "But what?" "I was just thinking that it was their queer ways that got some men in."

Explained. "Why are there so many more blonds in the city than in the country?" "Well, you know there are a lot more drug stores in the city than in the country."

Complaint. "Fay day doesn't come often enough." "I have noticed that." "Have you noticed another thing?" "What?" "It doesn't work hard enough when it gets here."

Needed Hustling. "What are you doing?" "Being thoughtful." "Well, hurry up and do your work or I will shake some of the thought out of you."

Terrifying. "Go on out there." "I am afraid." "There's nothing out there." "And I am afraid of nothing."

A heavy rain will be welcomed by the men who have been fighting for test fires.

The Scrap Book

His Proper Place. A local character whom we will call Shorty Blank has a reputation as an actor and takes part in nearly all of the local shows. In the last show that was given Shorty had one of the leading parts.

After the show, while he was taking off his makeup, an elderly man made his appearance in the doorway.

"Are you Mr. Blank?" inquired the old man.

"Yes," replied Shorty as he motioned him to be seated.

"Well," the old man continued, "I just want to tell you something. I've been watching your acting tonight. You should not be playing in this town; you should be with Mansfield, Booth or Irving or Joe Jefferson."

"W-w-why," said Shorty, "those actors are dead."

"I know it," said the old man as he turned on his heel and left.—Philadelphia Times.

One at a Time. One at a time the murmuring raindrops patter. On drowsy pools with an incessant chiming. Till, lo, an ocean ere the clouds scatter!

One at a time the shimmering sunbeams wander. Adown to earth from yonder cloudless chime. Till lowliest mountain tops are smelt with splendour.

One at a time uprears the master builder. Stone upon stone with horny hands aglitter. Till shoot aloft the turrets that bewilder.

One at a time the shuttle, swiftly flying. Flings thread on thread like throes of dying. Till glows the tapestry with hues undying.

One at a time each patient, mute endeavor. Is forging character's august, sublime. In souls whose influence shall be felt forever.

—W. C. Richardson.

Easy on Him. Tom Weldon on a journey from Allentown to Philadelphia got into a game of cards with a young man. The young man lost steadily. Finally, as Philadelphia drew near, he was out a total of $61.

The young man had a hard hand to produce all this money. From one pocket he took two twenty-dollar bills, from another two fives, from his waistcoat a ten dollar goldpiece and a silver dollar and from his trousers a half dollar, a quarter, two dimes and four pennies. The final penny he couldn't find, search where he would.

"I'm awfully sorry," he said to Tom Weldon. "I'm a real short."

"Never mind, young man," said Tom generally. "We won't stick at a cent. You can give your evening paper."

Her Backful Bean. An intensely beautiful young man was driving one evening with a young lady whom he had been calling on for some time previous. The stiffness of the evening and the beauty of the scene around him inspired his courage, and, sitting still and erect with his face forward, he suddenly turned out.

"May I kiss you?"

"Surely," she coyly replied.

"Aw," he said, his face scarlet and lurching his horses to a run—"aw, I was only fooling."

Saving the Money. In a certain parish in Scotland collectors were going round soliciting contributions for the kirk. On coming to a wretched little hovel they hesitated whether or not to enter, but finally decided to "try their luck." A hale old man greeted them, and to him they explained their errand, but he really had nothing to give them, he said.

"Can't you give up your whisky?" one of the visitors asked. "No," he said. "I don't drink whisky." Perhaps then he could forego the pleasures of sun? No; he didn't use snuff.

The collectors prepared to move on. "Stop a bit!" cried the old fellow. "I pay Sandy, the barber, twopenny every Saturday night for shaving me. Tell the moonshiner he can have the twopenny if he'll come and shave me himself!"

Came Near It. They were discussing a certain author at dinner, and a well known critic raised a laugh by remarking "Well, her hair's red, even if her books are not."

The mild young Englishman in the corner made a mental note of the saffron for future use, and at another dinner party shortly afterward he carefully guided the conversation into literary channels. Fortunately some one mentioned the desired name, and he triumphantly called out, "Well, she's got red hair, even if her books haven't."

Undesirable Confirmation. Senator John Kern of Indiana tells this story about his predecessor, the late Senator Dan Voorhees: Voorhees frequently made the claim that more Democrats than Republicans had been enrolled from Indiana in the Union army during the war between the states. On one occasion he made the assertion in connection with a speech in Sullivan county.

"I guess anybody will admit that considerably more than half the people who went into the Union army from Sullivan county were Democrats," he declared with emphasis.

A Democrat taken in one of the front rows had taken a drink or two before he came to the meeting, and he confirmed Voorhees' statements.

"Yes; it's true," he shouted. "Go darn it, they drafted us!"—Indianapolis Star.

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE MEET

London, May 8.—An international varsity meet, in which the combined athletic teams of Yale and Harvard will line up against those of Oxford and Cambridge, will be held on the Queen's club grounds in July, the American challenge having been definitely accepted by the British universities.

July 6 has been suggested as the date of the meet, but this may be changed for a day a little earlier or later in order that it may not clash with other events of the month.

HELD FOR OBSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAY

George King, the colored pop corn man, was ordered to appear in police court this afternoon to answer to a charge of obstructing the street.
King is the first man to get the hook under the recent order issued by the police board to have the law complied with. King has a license to peddle from the city clerk's office and according to the law he can hand out popcorn as long as he does not block up the highway more than twenty minutes at a time.
King has been holding forth between Fleet and High streets and has obtained counsel to defend him at the hearing.

SAILORS BARRED FROM DANCE HALL

Commander Cooper Explains Part In Matter

Law Forbidding Slights To Uniform Only Recently In Effect

On Monday night ten or a dozen sailors from the U. S. S. Marietta demanded admission to a ten cent dance hall on High street and were refused by the management. The management, however, being informed that they could go into the gallery but not on the dance floor.
Several sailors were permitted to enter the hall on Saturday evening and some of them were afterwards put out. Monday evening, trouble was anticipated as Deputy Marshal Hurley and Officer Philbrick were on duty at the hall when the sailors came up and Deputy Hurley refused to admit them acting under orders from the management. One of them went out and in a very short time returned with Commander Cooper of the Marietta and another officer. They attempted to purchase a ticket for the lower floor for a sailor and were refused, the men being given the option of going into the gallery or leaving the hall. After some little talk Commander Cooper ordered the men to leave the hall, and later many of them came back and paid admission to the gallery.

Commander Cooper stated last evening that he would present the case to the proper authorities and demand some action.
The management of the house claims that the sailors will not live up to the rules of the house.
Last Saturday night the management after refunding the price of admission, requested four girls who had been dancing with sailors to leave the hall.

In connection with the foregoing matter we are this morning in receipt of the following communication:
U. S. S. MARIETTA,
Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.,
May 9, 1911.

The Editor, Daily Herald Portsmouth, N. H.

"Dear Sir:—
I trust you will do me the favor to correct one or two slight errors in the "Chronicle" this morning, concerning the occurrence at Pierce's Hall last night when some of the men under my command were refused admission to the dancing floor.

1. I had no desire whatever to make a test case. My wish was, and is simply to do what I can to see that our men in uniform are given the treatment that well behaved men in plain clothes receive.

2. The men who were refused admission to the hall were not given orders to go there and try to gain admission; they were simply told to inform me if they were refused admission. Naturally when the recent law was passed, I obtained a copy of it on the ship's bulletin board and informed the men of what seemed to me their rights.

4. I did not suppose that anybody would openly violate the law. In this case if the "Chronicle" is correct, the deputy marshal instead of seeing the law obeyed, added in its violation.

5. I did not talk to anybody about the occurrence after having been informed of it, except to our own officers and men and to attempt to get some information from a policeman on duty. I was not very successful in the latter.

6. I ordered the men to leave the place simply because a crowd of two or three hundred people had collected and I desired to avoid any appearance of countenancing a disturbance of any kind.

7. I would be greatly obliged if you will make it clear that my presence at the place was entirely accidental. I was on my way to the Portsmouth Theatre when a stranger called me by my title and told me of the occurrence. This was at least a block away from the hall. While I was asking him some questions, one of my men came up to me and I questioned him. Naturally I went to the hall and made further investigation. Of course I shall attempt to obtain fair treatment at all times and in all places for men in uniform when they are well behaved. It seems to me that the policemen who saw the violation of the law in this case should have acted at once. This they failed to do.

8. If any man in uniform from the Marietta refuses to live up to the proper rules of this or any other hall, if the Management will eject him I will thank them and if they will inform me I will punish the man. Of course if one of these rules is that the uniform of the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and the National Guard of the State of New Hampshire, cannot be worn on the dance floor, it is a clear violation of the law.

formed of it, except to our own officers and men and to attempt to get some information from a policeman on duty. I was not very successful in the latter.

6. I ordered the men to leave the place simply because a crowd of two or three hundred people had collected and I desired to avoid any appearance of countenancing a disturbance of any kind.

Very respectfully yours,
George F. Cooper.

Commander, U. S. Navy,
Commanding U. S. S. MARIETTA.
Today an officer of the U. S. S. Marietta called on Mayor Badger and delivered to the city's chief executive a copy containing the list of names of the navy men who it is claimed were refused admittance to the picture house Monday. Accompanying the list of names was a quotation of the law passed at the last session of the legislature relative to the discrimination against the uniform of the army and navy and militia. This was signed by Capt. P. A. Wilner, commandant of the navy yard. This list of names included nine from the U. S. S. Marietta and four from the tug Patapsco. No complaint was found in either copy and if any protest was made to the mayor it was in person by the officer who is said to have been representing Capt. Cooper of the Marietta.

Mayor Badger had little to say relative to the matter for publication other than that the men who claimed to have been discriminated against knew the law and it was up to them to do as they saw fit. The mayor is understood to have informed Capt. Cooper that as far as he was personally concerned he intended to see that navy men were accorded the same rights as any other American citizen.

INSPECTOR AND JUNKMAN CLASH

Sealer of Weights and Measures Has His First Conflict

Charley Andrews, the official inspector of weights and measures for 1911 and who put a crook in the political career of Col. Charles Granville Asay by grasping this important city position, has had his first battle of the season.
Charley was doing great work in his line and every can, scales and yard stick has been boldly ordered up to the standard before he plastered the official seal thereon. Everything was coming his way and he promised a record never before produced by any of his predecessors, until he ran into Philip Sarota, a junk dealer. Philip, it appears, objected to Charley coming along and taking a look at his outfit, but Charley with books of the law as well as his official instruments told Philip where he got off and proceeded to perform his hounded duty. Then, it is alleged, Philip refused to hand over the necessary fee which Charley collects, and an argument followed.

Charley failed to extract anything that looked like money from the Hobrow and took a trip to Sam Emery's office to make sure he was in right. Sam told him he was on the straight course and Philip must deliver the goods. A warrant was issued and the police took a cross country run for Sarota. Up to noon they had not succeeded in finding him.

Look for the Yellow Box

When Buying Your Sox

Hosiery comes only in yellow boxes. Imitations of the guarantee are numerous, but insist on getting the genuine "Hosiery"—look for the yellow box.

There is real worth in "Hosiery." The makers pay 63 cents a pound for the finest Egyptian and Sea Island Cotton, but they could get ordinary cotton at 12 cents a pound.

The body is 3-ply and the heels, toes and knees are 6-ply in "Hosiery." Common hosiery is only 2-ply throughout. Both sell for the same price, but the common hosiery wears only one-sixth as long as "Hosiery."

This hosiery is as soft and smooth as silk, yet we guarantee to replace any pair that needs darning within six months. Men's hose come in eleven colors and women's in six—the price is $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Children's hose, in black and tan only, at $2 a box.
